

Comments From Past Artaquarius Holidays

"The art weekend was just marvellous! Thank you for all your thoughtful and hard work. It was all a lovely experience and so interesting to do the artwork in lovely surroundings with the history of Portencross so near."

... Anne

"Thank you so much for the lovely time we had at your art weekend. The food you provided was first class and we have lovely memories of our time at South Banks House with you and the other guests."

... Betty and Willie

"Thank you for a fabulous weekend at South Banks House. The company, tutoring, food and lessons learned were fabulous. Keep up the good work! The setting is fabulous and I have been dreaming about turning my garden shed into a studio like yours! Dream on! Thanks again."

... Pam

"Thank you so much for providing such a wonderful opportunity to practice a hobby and to have such a relaxing weekend with good company and challenge too. Your home is delightful and your hospitality second to none."

... Maryel

Venue

Artaquarius is based at South Banks House, a beautiful country house tastefully decorated with a wealth of period features and sits in the midst of a large garden featuring a unique rock-cliff backdrop, pond and studio. The house overlooks the sea, with stunning views of the Isle of Arran, the Cumbraes, Holy Isle, the Kyles of Bute and Ailsa Craig. Located in the hamlet of Portencross as featured on the 2004 BBC Restoration programme (for more information see www.portencrosscastle.org.uk). The art weekends were also the subject of a 2007 Sunday Times Travel article, of which we are rightly proud.

Appointed in country-house style, South Banks House (the core of which was built around 1690) offers elegant, comfortable accommodation for up to 8 people in 3 double/twin rooms and 3 single rooms over two floors, with stunning sea views. There are 2 large bathrooms (with showers), 2 separate shower rooms and a large cloakroom wc. The house is centrally heated, with several log fires and fully serviced.

Relax in the garden before dinner or in front of a log fire in the reception room before dining in style, by candlelight, and enjoy the Arran sunsets.

Non-painting partners are very welcome and there are many interesting places to visit nearby or, just enjoy the ambiance of the house and garden and breathe in the sea air.

Artaquarius, South Banks House, Portencross, by West Kilbride, Ayrshire, KA23 9QA

Proposed schedule (flexible, depending on weather):

On Friday, access to house will be from 3pm, with time for a walk to the castle and harbour before afternoon tea (about 4:30pm). Your tutor will join us for drinks before dinner, which will be served at approximately 8pm. All soft drinks are provided, but we ask that you bring your own wine or any other alcoholic beverages.

During the art weekend, you will walk down to the harbour to sketch Arran and Portencross Castle. Beginning with many drawing techniques, experimental approaches with reference to various artists you will develop your use of paint and mixed media. From initial sketches you will leave the weekend with a sketchbook of inspiration to further your creative ideas. New: Pottery and lino cutting instruction.

On both mornings, a full Scottish breakfast will be served at 9am. Lunch at 1:30pm, with morning coffee and afternoon tea served in the garden (weather permitting).

On Sunday, departure will be between 5-6pm. (Arrangements can be made for an add-on overnight stay. Cost is £50 per double room and £38 single). Well-behaved dogs are welcome. Free wifi is provided too.

We pride ourselves on our friendly and informal approach to our weekends, which we hope you will find fun, relaxing and informative. We have conducted these weekends over the past 12 years and believe that we have created the right level of encouragement for aspiring artists. Whether you have had previous art experience or not, be assured of a warm welcome and a fun weekend.
